Dr. Ken's Pen

On Sunday the twenty-fourth of this month we will have our annual Homecoming celebration.

Homecoming! What a warm sounding word. It indicates returning to a place of love, security and memories. Homecoming also indicates an acceptance by those who have continued to live at home. Hopefully, those who will return for this year will have all that Homecoming indicates. And I know we who have continued to live here will be filled with joy and happiness to see them. I know I will, for many of them are a part of my life. Please, invite your family and friends to share the day of Homecoming with us.

Instead of having a former pastor preaching the Homecoming sermon this year, Dr. Gerald Harris editor of The Christian Index will be our guest preacher. He has been editor of the Index since June 2003 and is responsible for the editorial tone of the paper. In that role he espouses the biblical worldview through his editorials and many news and feature articles. Gerald has written for a variety of denominational publications, including devotions for Open Windows and HomeLife magazines. He has also authored three books – Pardoned to be Priests, Olympic Heroes: World-Class Athletes Winning at Life, and A Gentle Zephyr.

Prior to coming to the Index, Dr. Harris served for nine years as pastor of Eastside Baptist Church in Marietta.. He served as president of the state convention in 1999 and has been an active member on a variety of committees, including the GBC Executive Committee, Administrative Committee, and chairman of the Nominating Committee.

Remember, God loves you and so do I.

Dr. Ken...
